

Outreach Programs by the Old Barracks Museum

Bring the past to your class with an outreach program!

Of Arms and Men: A soldier of the American Revolution talks about his life, uniform, weapons, and equipment.

Powder, Potion, Bolus, and Pill: 18th Century medical practices and treatments are explained and demonstrated.

Patriots in Petticoats: Using the stories of real women, this program explores the various lives of women during the Revolution including how they were involved in the war effort both from home and on the battlefield.

Child's Play: Colonial games and pastimes are explained with examples. Groups are invited to play with many of the toys at the end of the program.

Fighting For My Freedom: An African American soldier shares his experience of fighting for personal and national freedom during the American Revolution.

Available Monday - Friday, September - March

Program Length: 30 min. for each program

Suitable ages: 9+

Cost: $175 per program; $125 per each additional program | Travel expenses and lunch expenses apply

101 Barrack Street, Trenton, NJ 08608

WWW.BARRACKS.ORG

To book an outreach:
groups@barracks.org

1-888-BARRACK